 2. Operation—(a) Workday not more than eleven hours nor less than ten. (b) All day runs to be ten hours straight.
 3. Arbitration—Grievances to be adjusted by an arbitration board comprising a company arbitrator, a representative of the union and a third man selected by the two.
 4. The closed shop—All employees to be union men; new employees to be taken into the union at the expiration of a forty-five day probation period.

 7. Days off allowed—The company to allow men to register a week in advance for days desired off.
 8. Pay for injuries—The company to pay for medical attendance and all time lost owing to injury on duty.
- #### REPLIES.
 2. Operation—Refused, on the ground that the company could not enter into any agreement that would hamper or restrict it in the performance of its duty to the traveling public.
 3. Arbitration—Accepted.
 4. Closed shop—Refused, on the ground that it would give the union "complete and absolute control of the selection, employment, retention in service and discipline of all employees."
 5. Recognition of union officials—Accepted.
 6. Penalty for unjust suspension—Answered with the statement that "the company will not unjustly suspend or discharge any man."
 7. Days off allowed—Accepted, in so far as it does not interfere with the company's service.
 8. Pay for injuries—Refused, with the statement: "The company will not undertake so extensive an insurance scheme."

Chicago, Nov. 13.—Twenty-five cars run on the Wentworth avenue line without damage to the cars or injury to nonunion employees operating them was what the Chicago City Railway company was able to accomplish to day with the assistance of the police department. While there was no active interference with the handling of cars, such as attended attempts of yesterday, crowds that lined the streets jeered and hooted the police and nonunion men almost without intermission. But two stones were hurled at cars during the day. Neither stone did much damage. At nightfall officials of the street car company were inclined to view the day's work with satisfaction. They announced cars will be run to morrow on the Wentworth avenue line and that attempts will be made to operate other lines. Shortly after this announcement the situation was complicated for the company by the sudden strike of firemen and helpers in all of the company's power houses. Two days ago the firemen signed a contract to last a year, but there was a clause in it giving the firemen discretion to go on a sympathetic strike if the company refused to arbitrate with employees now on strike. The company said it had always been willing to arbitrate the question of wages and the firemen signed the contract which they repudiated to night. Union officials say the strike was ordered because the company declined to accept their offer to mediate between the company and strikers.

Manager McCulloch was indignant when he received news of the firemen's strike; said agreement with a Chicago union was worth nothing, and declared: "This strike will not cripple us."

The real danger in this last strike lies in the attitude of the teamsters. They may decline to deliver coal if nonunion firemen are employed, and the company has but three days' supply on hand.

The state board of arbitration had a conference with officials of the company and the union in an effort to bring about a settlement. Nothing definite was accomplished, but another conference will be held to morrow. A members of the board said indications were that the company would agree to arbitrate all questions except recognition of the union.

RUNNING CARS.
Chicago, Nov. 13.—It was anticipated the running of cars today by the Chicago City Railway in attempt to break the big strike on their lines would result in more serious rioting than that which took place yesterday. By seven this morning crowds of strike sympathizers began to gather at points along the route the company had announced they intended to operate cars. Several hundred police and a dozen patrol wagons were massed at the terminals of the Wentworth avenue line and just before the first car started from the barns with non-union crews, wagons left for the business district leaving squads of police at points where trouble was looked for.

NO VIOLENCE.
Ten cars in all started toward the center of the city within half an hour, all Wentworth avenue non-union crews manned each car in charge of a lieutenant or sergeant and twelve policemen. The cars ran slowly between dense lines of strikers and sympathizers who tried to keep pace with the car.

No stones were thrown but jeers and cat calls were hurled at the police and trainmen. The presence of police on the cars, evidently with approval of Mayor Harrison, appeared to greatly excite the anger of the crowds.

Though there was much excitement and streets were thronged with people little actual trouble was actually experienced by cars during the trip. The cars started on the return trip on almost schedule time. Four teamsters were arrested for attempting to block the way and put aboard the cars.

Five union men boarded different cars soon after the start, paid their fares and during the round trip used influence to avert violence.

In the early afternoon ten more cars on Wentworth avenue made the round trip from the southern terminus without interference or demonstration on the part of people along the route. The cars, of course, were under heavy police protection and carried but few passengers.

Organized labor will to morrow attempt to bring sufficient pressure to bear on municipal authorities to prevent police from riding on cars of the Chicago City railway during the existing strike troubles. The intention of promoters of the plan is to have 1,200 members of the Federation of Labor and Municipal Ownership league call on the mayor and chief of police and make a number of requests. They will ask that no more franchises be granted the street car companies but that they be operated under a license system and that policemen be restrained from riding on cars during the strike; street car companies be prohibited from using electricity as motive power. Injunction proceedings are proposed to prevent police riding on cars, should the mayor refuse to order them off.

Mayor Harrison said to night he could not tell what he will reply until he knows what he will be asked. "I will do all I can, however, to prevent disorder in connection with the strike," said the mayor.

YOUNG GIRL SUICIDES.
Des Moines, Nov. 13.—Reistering under the name of Mabel Ives, Cedar Rapids, a beautiful and unknown young woman committed suicide at the Iowa hotel to day by taking carbolic acid. She is not known at Cedar Rapids.

HARMLESS OPERATION.
Berlin, Nov. 13.—The Berlin Clinical Worchenschrift confirms the statement of doctors that the operation of Emperor William was for a harmless polypus. It is reported from Bonn that Prince Henry of Prussia declared the illness of the emperor was not at all serious. Were it so, Prince Henry said, the emperor would have revealed the truth to the people.

KILLED ON THE STREET

Aged New York Man Shot by an Insane Negro—Claims a Woman who Slandered Him was Befriended.

New York, Nov. 13.—Andrew H. Green, "Father of New York", was shot and killed this afternoon at Forty-ninth street and Park avenue by Cornelius M. Williams (colored), who has been arrested. Green was 83 years old, had been prominent in municipal and state affairs and a member of many art and educational societies.

According to witnesses the negro must have been waiting for Green to come home from his office. As Green started to ascend the steps to his house the negro, who was standing in the vestibule, advanced toward him. Green ordered Williams away and the negro drew a revolver and fired five shots in rapid succession. Green sank to the pavement, blood streaming from his head, while the murderer, returning the revolver to his pocket, leaned against the railing of the stoop as if awaiting arrest. William H. Burns, one of the first to reach the negro, seized him as he was about to walk away and turned him over to a policeman. A physician was on the spot almost immediately and pronounced Green dead. One of the bullets imbedded itself in the ceiling of the vestibule. It is believed all others took effect.

The negro was taken to the police station, where he was subjected to a searching examination, the result of which left little doubt of the negro's insanity. Williams appeared perfectly self-possessed and acted as though he felt he had performed a meritorious deed, and in answering questions spoke like a man firm in the conviction that he had been deeply wronged by the man he had murdered. He told a rambling story about a colored woman, Mrs. Bessie Davis, who until recently kept a lodging house for negroes, who, he said, had circulated statements derogatory to his character and which he said caused him to withdraw from the church. He blamed Green for befriending the woman and enabling her to continue her slanderous stories. "I'm not sorry I shot him," exclaimed the prisoner. "He got what he deserved. I may not be justified by society, but I'm justified in the eyes of God. I'm willing to go to the electric chair if necessary to vindicate my character."

Timothy R. Green said to night that his uncle had never before seen the man who shot him; that he had never heard of Bessie Davis, and that he never had any colored servants in his house.

STORY DENIED.

Rome, Nov. 13.—Monsignor Kennedy, rector of the American college here, emphatically denies the story attributed to him in a dispatch from Madrid, that, having heard of the proposed elevation of Monsignor Merry Del Val to be papal secretary of state before the event actually occurred, cabled information to Cardinal Gibbons, who, after communicating it to the United States government, notified the vatican the appointment might bring about difficulties concerning religious questions in the Philippine Islands.

It now appears that there was no American bishop at Rome at the time the story was published and also that Gibbons had never sent a cablegram to Rome objecting to the appointment of Monsignor Merry Del Val, but on the contrary had sent to the new papal secretary his most affectionate congratulations.

Des Moines, Nov. 13.—Several prominent Grundy county farmers who are accused of mobbing P. A. Seguin for delivering an anti-Catholic lecture are made by Seguin defendants in a $50,000 damage suit. C. Hummel and John O'Connor.

FEDERATION OF LABOR.

Boston, Nov. 13.—The American Federation of Labor today passed a motion expressing good wishes to striking street railway men in Chicago and hopes for their success and early settlement.

A mass of resolutions was delivered to the secretary of the federation to day and in order that various committees might consider them the convention was adjourned until to morrow. The business of the convention is in grave danger of being seriously blocked by resolutions, which number 23.

VIEWS OF THE PRESIDENT

ON CANAL TREATY NEGOTIATION

Compelled to Rewrite That Portion of His Annual Message to Congress—United States Must Construct the Canal.

Washington, Nov. 13.—For several weeks President Roosevelt has had in preparation his annual message to be presented at the opening of the regular session of congress the first Monday of December. That part of the message in which the president discussed canal negotiations was completed two weeks ago. Events which have occurred on the isthmus and in this country since that time have made it necessary for the president to completely rewrite that part of the message touching canal negotiations. The president announces refusal of Colombia to ratify the treaty and after stating the treaty had been negotiated at the earnest request of Colombia and subsequently disapproved by the Colombian senate, the president stated the powers exercised by the United States under the treaty of 1846 were so large in protection of transit across the isthmus it sometimes had been questioned whether it was necessary now to obtain a treaty for the purpose of building a canal.

Continuing, he wrote: "High authorities on international law hold that the canal can be dug as an incident to exercising power to prevent obstruction of traffic across the isthmus. Nevertheless in accordance with our settled policy of behavior with scrupulous fairness and generosity toward our weaker sister republics of the south, taking no position that can even by implication be treated as unfriendly, unless literally forced thereto, we have endeavored to provide for the building of the canal by treaty. In this treaty we went as far as it is possible for us to go in the direction of making concessions to the United States of Colombia. No further concessions can, or should, be made by this government."

The president refers to the demand for the canal by the civilized world and effort and failure of a private company to construct it. "Events of the last few years," he says, "warrant us in now saying not only that the canal should not be constructed by any foreign government, but that it is not to be constructed by any private company. It must, therefore, be dug by the government of the United States."

The president declares it to be his judgment time for beginning of the canal cannot be much longer delayed, and says: "This nation does not desire to be unreasonable or impatient, but it cannot and will not permit any body of men permanently to obstruct one of the great world highways of traffic, and refusal to permit the building of the canal amounts to such obstruction. Of course, to insist upon unreasonable terms is equivalent to a refusal."

The president considers the question of choice between the Panama and Nicaragua routes and says that after deciding upon the route we should "give notice that we can no longer submit to trifling or insincere dealing on the part of those whom accident of position has placed in temporary control of the ground through which the route must pass; that if they will come to an agreement with us in a straightforward fashion we shall in return act not only with justice, but with generosity, and that if they fail to come to such agreement with us we must forthwith take the matter into our own hands."

HOUSE.
Washington, Nov. 13.—The house was in session seventeen minutes to day and adjourned until Monday.

Chairman Payne of the committee on ways and means reported favorable a bill making effective the Cuban reciprocity treaty; and gave notice that on Monday he would call it up for consideration. In the committee were but two votes against the bill, Robertson (La.), and Copp (Texas) both Democrats. One extending provisions of the treaty to all other countries, the other abolishing the differential duty on refined sugar were defeated.

Payne stated an agreement had been reached with the minority that the Cuban bill be considered until four Thursday afternoon, when a vote will be taken.

CORONER SEEKS LIGHT

Brown County Official Probes the Mysterious Death of Oliver Surratt.

Mt. Sterling, Nov. 13.—The sudden death of Oliver Surratt, of Elkhorn township, is the subject of investigation by the coroner and much mystery surrounds the case.

Last Friday night Surratt and a neighbor by the name of Raub, it is claimed, engaged in a rough and tumble fight. In which, it is said, Surratt was severely injured.

Thursday night Surratt was at the home of Ora Upchurch and, it is declared, liquor began to flow freely and the two men became engaged in a quarrel. During the progress of the dispute Upchurch, it is asserted, threatened to shoot Surratt. Friends of the latter came to his rescue and he started to his mother's home, where he had been living.

Upon arrival home he remarked that he had "received his dose" and proceeded to a justice of the peace to arrange his business affairs. Upon his return he was taken suddenly ill and died at 4 o'clock Thursday morning.

An inquest was held and the man's stomach was removed and sent to an expert for analysis.

INDIANS RESPONSIBLE

Cheyenne, Wyo., Nov. 13.—Governor Chatterton has made public the result of his investigation into the responsibility for the recent trouble with Sioux Indians. He finds that the Indians were violating the state law in slaughtering game and were also slaughtering cattle of settlers; that the sheriff demanded their surrender; that in reply to this demand the Indians fired upon the sheriff's posse and that the latter returned the fire. The governor states there can be no question as to where the responsibility lies. The Indians were violating the laws of the state, knowingly and willfully, and the murdered officers were martyrs to their duty. The governor declared he would insist on a thorough trial, if for no other reason than to vindicate the dead officers and present their sacrifice in the proper light before the people.

Appropriations were made for work in twenty-nine cities, the total amount to be given being $24,700. TRADE AND INDUSTRY

GOVERNED TO GREAT EXTENT BY QUIETNESS

Though Some Really Encouraging Signs are Visible—Exports of Leading Products are Very Large.

New York, Nov. 13.—Bradstreet's review of trade says: Quietness and even repression govern general trade and industry, but the prevailing pessimism cannot hide the fact that some really encouraging signs are visible. Taken as a whole, general business this week is larger, due to expansion in retail trade at the northwest, where it is favored by cooler, settled weather, and the south, where an enormous quantity of cotton is being marketed at excellent prices. Wholesale trade is still quiet as a whole, awaiting new developments in price and demand. Export trade seems to be at last expanding. Exports of leading products aggregate the second largest total ever recorded in October. Chief among depression features brought to light this week are reports that finished steel products have been cut, that wages of iron and steel and cotton mill employees must come down, and that some new strikes, notably general shutdown of Colorado coal mines, are menacing far western manufacturing and railway activity. On the other hand, the fact might just as well be faced high prices have checked demand and manufacturers of iron and steel believe the demand can be revived if price concessions are made and that wage reductions are calculated to render this policy more effectual, notwithstanding that a decrease in earnings and consumptive power results temporarily.

The lumber market is irregular. Building activity is favored by late, favorable fall. Coal is rather dull. Eastern shoe shipments are still heavy. Print cloths have been dull and unsettled and the claim is made that cloths and coarse cottons are selling below the cost of production. Wheat, including flour, exports for the week were 3,660,000 bushels, against 4,440,000 this week last year. For nineteen weeks of the cereal year, 61,902,000 bushels, against 50,880,000 in 1902.

Corn exports for the week were 1,688,000 bushels, against 282,000 a year ago. For nineteen weeks of the present cereal year, 21,581,000 bushels, against 21,450,000 in 1902.

R. G. DUN & CO.
Readjustment of wages and abnormally warm weather are not calculated to stimulate the distribution of merchandise, especially wearing apparel and fuel. Several other staple lines are quiet as is usual at this season, yet the splendid profits of agricultural communities cannot fail to put large sums of money in circulation and provide a market for commodities. The prices of all staples were slightly higher on Nov. 1 than a month previous, but in the past two weeks the level has fallen somewhat. Settlements of labor disputes in meat packing and several minor industries are offset by new struggles in building trades, street car lines and coal mines, while cut in wages of iron workers and spinners may result in strikes.

Railway earnings for the first week in November were 4.8 per cent larger than last year. In footwear the only feature is the urgency of jobbers to get quick delivery of fall contracts. Inquiries for cotton goods are numerous, but buyers and sellers cannot agree as to prices and little new business is closed. Slight improvement is noted in supplementary orders for woollens, without lifting the market from its dull condition, however. Prices for worsteds are very irregular and carpets for spring were opened at an advance of 5 per cent on low grades.

DEATHS.

Berlin, Nov. 13.—The death is announced at Ober Kunewalde, near Dresden, Saxony, of Wilhelm von Polenz. The deceased had made numerous visits to the United States and wrote a book entitled "America, the Land of the Future," in which he spoke enthusiastically of that country.

Des Moines, Nov. 13.—R. F. Finley, aged 44, died in a hospital here last week, penniless. Nothing was known of Finley except that he had a brother at Pittsburg. To day J. R. Finley, a Pittsburg millionaire banker, arrived in Des Moines and claimed the body.

BANK CLEARINGS.

New York, Nov. 13.—Total bank clearings compiled by Bradstreet for the past week were $3,044,631,919, a decrease of 20.3 per cent compared with the corresponding week last year.

ASYLUM GAUARDS FREE

Peoria County Grand Jury Does Not Indict Them for Killing of Hartley.

Peoria, Nov. 13.—The Peoria county grand jury to day made its report to Judge Green. The expected indictments against Edward A. Sorrells and Samuel Flynn, keepers at the Bartonville asylum, accused of the murder of Thomas Hartley, an inmate, did not materialize, the jury returning no bills against them.

The two men were held under bond following the recommendation of the coroner's jury but the evidence has since tended to show that the men were acting upon their line of duty as keepers at the asylum. Public sympathy here has been with Sorrells and Flynn from the beginning and the general public has felt no indictments would be returned against them. The trouble occurred Oct. 19, last, when Sorrells and Flynn, who were keepers at the asylum, endeavored to transfer Hartley from one ward to another. Sorrells first attempted to effect the removal, but his charge became desperate and assaulted him.

Sorrells called for help and Flynn went to the rescue. In the terrible struggle which ensued Hartley was beaten into insensibility. Several of his ribs were fractured and he sustained other serious injuries.

He was conveyed to the physician's office, where he died shortly afterward. It was thought that he sustained a fracture of the skull besides his other injuries.

Dr. George Zeller, superintendent of the asylum, summoned the board of trustees soon after the occurrence and Sorrells and Flynn were both suspended pending investigation.

MARCHING ON PANAMA

President of Colombia Says Army Will Subdue Isthmians—Officers in Panama.

Guayaquil, Ecuador, Nov. 13.—General Plaza, president of Ecuador, has cabled President Marroquin of Colombia, sympathizing with him in recent events on the isthmus of Panama. Marroquin has replied thanking Plaza and adding that Generals Reyes, Cabello, Ospina and Holguin are marching on Panama with a large army to subdue the isthmians.

Lima, Peru, Nov. 13.—The Colombian minister to Peru has published here a cablegram received from his government saying Colombia has taken measures to suppress "the isthmian traitors" and that all parties and all classes have offered the government their lives and properties in defense of national territory.

Colon, Nov. 13.—Cutters from American warships here were dispatched this morning to stop the German steamer Markomannia, which was seen towing a launch toward the harbor. It was thought the Markomannia was coming from a Colombian port, but it appears she had been chartered at Bocas del Toro to bring the alcade of that port to Colon. There was a big scare at Bocas del Toro on receipt of news that the Colombian government was sending 5,000 troops to retake the port, which recently declared its allegiance to the new republic, and the alcade left on the Markomannia for Colon for the purpose of obtaining arms and ammunition with which to equip 500 volunteers to resist the expected Colombian attack. The alcade, however, has returned to Bocas del Toro to ally the fears of the populace and give assurance that the landing of Colombian troops there will not be permitted.

Panama, Nov. 13.—The Associated Press correspondent to day communicated to Jose Augustin Arango, president of the junta, the first news of President Roosevelt's reception of M. Philippe Bunau-Varilla as minister of the republic of Panama. Arango expressed great gratification, saying the act of President Roosevelt made possible the negotiation of a canal treaty and that such negotiation would probably be completed before Panamanians held a convention to elect a legislature and adopt a constitution.

It is rumored the situation at Bogota is extremely critical and that there is a continuance of manifestations of furious despair over the loss of the isthmus. Feeling against President Marroquin is growing in intensity and one rumor has it that he has been deposed. The populace of Bogota is talking of sending a big expedition to recapture the isthmus at any cost, in their excitement losing sight of the futility of such an attempt.

Washington, Nov. 13.—Both Secretary Hay and General Young, chief of staff of the army, had retired when the bulletin announcing that an army from Colombia was marching against the isthmians, so that it was impossible to learn what action the government might take to meet the issue which will be raised. Rumors are current to day the government intended to send United States troops to the isthmus, but positive denials were made that such was the intention of the administration, which some time ago asserted its purpose was to prevent fighting that would endanger free transit of the isthmus.

SOUTH SIDE CIRCLE

The South Side circle met at the home of A. W. Baldwin on East North street Friday afternoon and a most interesting program was enjoyed. It was one of the largest attended meetings in the history of the circle.

The subject considered was "Charities" and Mrs. H. L. Griswold led in the discussion of a paper mostly devoted to the work of the local organization of Associated Charities. Miss Martha Landreth, who attended the national conference of charities held recently in Atlanta, Ga., gave an informal talk on charity effort in general and a very interesting manner reviewed briefly the sessions of the conference. She also spoke of the local charity work and her treatment of the subject was comprehensive.

Mrs. Baldwin was assisted in entertaining by Mrs. H. Weber and Miss Goodrick. The guests present were Mrs. Parker, of Lexington, Ky., Mrs. Kate Anderson and Miss Carrie Anderson, of Lincoln, Mrs. Stuhl, Mrs. Wallace Brockman, Mrs. David Reid and Miss Lou Martin.

During the afternoon Mrs. Brockman delighted the members of the circle with two readings entitled "Wet Weather Talk," by Riley and "Jane Jones," Ben King.

The roll call responses were many of them very bright. The next meeting of the circle will be held at the home of Mrs. J. W. Hall.

ILLINOIS REPUBLICANS.

Globe Democrat: The shrewdest Democratic managers are giving their attention to some combination that can turn New York and Illinois to the Democratic side in 1904. Even these two states added to all those that went Democratic at the latest elections would not be enough to win, but a powerful campaign in the first and third state of the union would enliven the canvass and their gain by the Democrats would give a close result. Ohio and Indiana have passed out of the Democratic reckoning. Their latest Republican majorities are too big to afford a fighting chance. Besides, Illinois has twenty-seven electoral votes, a goodly addition to New York's thirty-nine. Supposing the Democratic ticket to be Parker and Harrison, New Jersey also would be hotly contested, and New Jersey's twelve electoral votes, in addition to those of New York and Illinois, would be enough to elect, provided the Democrats could hold Rhode Island and Nevada, along with the solid south. Of course, such an outcome is exceedingly remote, but, poor as the program is, it is the best the Democratic leaders can figure from present conditions. Nothing better can be evolved from the electoral table. In fact if either New York or Illinois is left out of the Democratic reckoning, the figures fall so far short as to be hopeless.

Illinois gave a Republican plurality at its latest state election (1902) of no less than 89,770. Chicago's Republican plurality that year was over 20,000. The margin is certainly immense, and there is no reason to doubt that Illinois will do its share toward Republican success next year, except for the fact that the party in that state seems to have far more than an average of trivial local dissensions. What these differences are about nobody outside can understand, and those on the inside are but little better off. Small individualities, in a fever of jealousy and exaggerated self-importance, appear to be one element in the case. Too many little fellows are fighting for themselves instead of the Republican party. Petty politics is too much indulged in in Illinois at the present time. So Democratic managers have fixed their gaze on that state. Since they can not win without it, they must try to get it in the face of any possible discouragement. And they look upon the squabbles of Illiputian Republicans with hope as well as satisfaction.

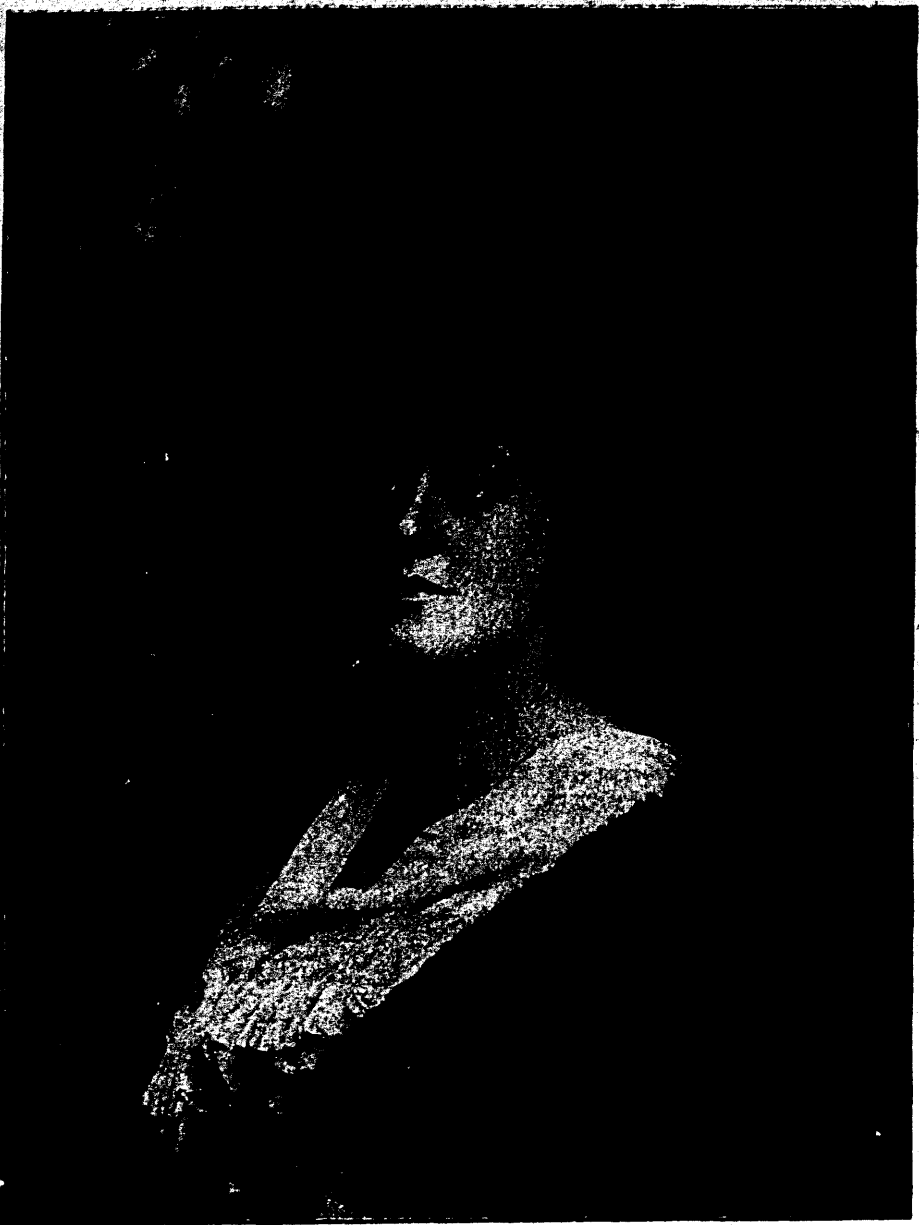

If the Illinois Republicans will take for their guide the sort of Republicanism that has animated Uncle Joe Cannon all his life, and been conspicuous throughout his twenty-eight years of congressional service, no mistake will be made as to a proper party standard. Mr. Cannon's advancement to the speakership is deserved by the state as well as by the man. Illinois has produced so many great Republicans and been so prominent in the onward march of the party that the appearance of small unintelligible rows are a misfit and a surprise. As the Democratic plans for 1904 develop, Illinois will become a specially contested state. The attack will be a forlorn hope, yet no party is so strong that it can tolerate paltry factions stirred up by paltry persons. A word to the wise is sufficient. Illinois Republicans should sit down on mischief makers.

GOVERNOR YATES.

Rockford Morning Star: There is something in the contention of Governor Yates that he has not been fairly treated by the newspapers that oppose his candidacy. He has been blamed without reason and all credit has been withheld from him. The Chicago press in particular have been bitter in their attacks and have magnified minor mistakes into tremendous blunders. Where he has aimed to do good, his efforts have been belittled and his sincerity disputed. Having no newspaper friendly to him in the state's metropolis the governor deems it his duty to appear among the people to explain his public acts and reply to those who so venomously assail him.

Many things can be said in Governor Yates' favor. That he is a man of integrity and high character even his enemies concede. His habits are formed on model lines. His home life is ideal. His family consists of his aged mother, a beautiful wife and two interesting daughters. To these he is devotedly attached. There is to be good in the man who has such surroundings. Credit must be given Governor Yates for his efforts to cause the legislature to pass a primary election law which would have taken party machinery out of the hands of the politicians and placed it in the keeping of the people. He also sought the passage of a civil service law that would have taken all state institutions out of politics. That the legislature did not pass these measure is not the fault of the governor.

The governor must also be given credit for an honest and economical management of the state institutions. These institutions have never been better conducted. The charge is made that they are conducted by politicians. If this is true, it is the fault of the system that has too long prevailed in this state. The civil service law the governor urged the legislature to enact would have abolished this system. That a change was not made is attributable to enemies within his party who defeated the merit bill on the ground that it would strengthen the governor.

These truths are stated in the interest of fairness. The Star is not a party organ and is therefore not inhibited from stating the truth. Such faults as Governor Yates has shown are paltry faults. The attacks that visit him are from factionists, from men who seek to tear him down in order to build up others.

MEETING CALL ISSUED.

Washington, Nov. 13.—Senator Hanna, chairman of the Republican national committee, today issued a call for a meeting of the committee in Washington December 11, to decide on time and place of holding the next Republican convention.

HATCH'S BRIGHT IDEA.

Plan Suggested by Him Adopted Successfully by a Large Concern.

There are few retail druggists who have better ideas as to how to successfully introduce a proprietary preparation than Hatch, one of the best known business men in Jacksonville.

When the Dr. Howard company talked with them in regard to introducing their Specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia, advised them to sell at the popular price of 25 cents. They told them that they could sell ten bottles at this price, where they could sell one at 50 cents and the result has proven their business judgment. The sales on this now famous Specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia, have been so remarkably large that they have decided to make the price 25 cents in the future; not diminishing the amount of medicine that they put in each package, (60 doses, a month's treatment). Dr. Howard's Specific is sold under their absolute guarantee to refund the money if it does not cure constipation, dyspepsia, and all forms of liver trouble.

If you do not feel that the Specific has done you great good, take back the empty bottle to Hatch and they will return your money without any question. This offer shows their belief that Dr. Howard's Specific is a medicine that cures.

Closed Doors.

Here is a conversation that Wall street men insist took place between J. Pierpont Morgan and John W. Gates at the time when the latter was doing some remarkably heavy plunging both in the stock market and at the race tracks. Wall street is recalling it just now with much interest.

"Mr. Gates, I wish you wouldn't gamble so openly. It has a bad effect on the market," said Mr. Morgan.

"The doors are open when I do things," replied Mr. Gates in his usual bluff fashion.

"Doors were made to shut, Mr. Gates," was Mr. Morgan's quiet reply as they separated.—New York Times.

Not Surprised.

Glen MacDonough, who wrote the libretto for the comic opera "Babes In Toyland," was sitting in a New York restaurant recently with Victor Herbert, the composer, when a waiter approached to take his order. The waiter smiled at Mr. MacDonough and said: "You don't remember me, do you? I used to sing in one of your companies."

"I remember you very well," said Mr. MacDonough.

"Are you surprised to see me here as a waiter?" asked the other.

"Not a bit," replied the librettist cheerfully. "You know, I have heard you sing."

Alaska Tin.

Stream tin was discovered in Alaska last year, and now it is reported that great ledges of tin ore have been found at Cape York, on Bering sea. Numerous individual placer miners are reported to have made small fortunes during the past summer, two men, for example, having taken twenty-two tons of stream tin from claims along one of the creeks in the Cape York region, using the crudest hand methods. Hydraulic machinery will be taken into the district next season, when the extent and value of the tin deposits will be ascertained.—New York Engineering News.

NOT A CANDIDATE

Chicago, Nov. 13.—Former Gov. Joseph W. Fifer will not be a candidate for the Republican gubernatorial nomination next year. The announcement was made for him by his friends, with his concurrence, although Mr. Fifer, who was in the city, declined to talk politics. The reasons given for his decisions are the objections of his family, his ill health and indisposition to undertake a prolonged contest like the fight promises to be.

The first intimation of Mr. Fifer's decision was given at the noonday luncheon of the Hyde Park Republican committee, when one of the guests present asked: "Why can't I be for Joe Fifer for governor?" "I took dinner with Mr. Fifer last night," responded Dr. T. M. Jamieson, "and he informed me that he was not and would not be a candidate for governor under any circumstances. He said his health would not permit him to enter an arduous campaign and there were other reasons why he should not make the race."

This statement by Dr. Jamieson was corroborated by a close friend of the governor after they had talked together during the afternoon. Mr. Fifer himself said he was in Chicago on business and had no time to talk politics.

CATTLE BREEDERS SUED.

Clinton, Mo., Nov. 13.—The Union national bank of Kansas City, Mo., to day filed a suit for $40,000 against Casey & Towers, of which firm Col. George M. Casey is a member. Casey is probably the leading Shorthorn breeder of the United States. His present embarrassment is due, it is said, to the slump in price of cattle. His indebtedness is said to exceed $300,000.

RUSSIAN PRESS.

Odessa, Nov. 13.—The Soviet declares Russia has reoccupied Mukden because the United States government intended to utilize that place as a base of military operations and compel China to fulfill terms of the convention between the Chinese and United States government. The Soviet says reoccupation of Mukden by Russia was a dignified and unequivocal reply to the United States naval demonstration in the far east. The Novikrai makes a similar explanation.

CASE OF SUICIDE.

Springfield, Nov. 13.—A. D. Bellmer, supposedly from Kansas City, was found lying unconscious in his room at the Annex hotel, Taylorville, to day with the gas turned on. It was evidently a case of suicide. He died shortly after being discovered.

COREAN PORT.

Washington, Nov. 13.—It is learned here the United States government is seeking to have the port of Wiju, Corea, opened, while Great Britain and Japan have combined in favor of opening the port of Yonrapho.

A day or two since Isaiah Strawn was driving along one of the streets of the city when his buggy broke and the animal which was less than three years old, was set loose with the shafts and front axle and decided not to run, though she is a high spirited, fine mare. If anybody knows how to break horses it is Mr. Strawn and he knows how to handle them afterward. One feature of the work is to hitch a colt to a pair of wheels and turn it loose in a lot and it soon learns not to fear them and when an accident like the one mentioned occurs there is less liability of danger.

BIRTHDAY ANNIVERSARY.

The birthday anniversary of T. Rice Smith was most pleasantly observed Friday by a family gathering held at his home. No attempt was made to carry out a formal program, but a feeling of wholeheartedness prevailed that made the occasion most enjoyable.

“Father Breckon; what does the good book say about the man who enters not by the door into the sheep fold, but climbeth up some other way?” was good naturedly asked.

“I guess he's called a thief and a robber,” was the smiling rejoinder and both indulged in a good laugh, though he was assured that the questioner didn't by any means intend to

Rev. Vickerman Breckon Breathes His Last in Peace.

At 9:10 Friday morning Rev. Vickerman Breckon closed his eyes on things earthly to open them in the better land. For some months he had not been well, though the past week he seemed rather stronger and the Saturday before his death was able to go down to the city and felt reasonably well, but Saturday night, the 7th, he was taken ill at ten, the difficulty being especially with his heart. From the first it was evident that his malady was of a very serious nature and his brother John, of Central City, Neb., was summoned by telegraph and arrived Tuesday before the end came. Friday morning Mr. Breckon was feeling somewhat better and his brother had gone out for a walk, while the other members of the family, with the exception of his son Joseph, were in different parts of the house. He had been fully aware of his condition and regarded the end with feelings of joy. He often repeated passages of Scripture and had been saying over some favorite verses with considerable strength, when suddenly he reached out and grasping his son's hand said, “Good-bye, Joseph, I'm going,” and giving a gasp he was no more.

Though he had several times spoken of dying and had not long before remarked triumphantly that he would soon be with “mother and Sarah,” no one had any idea that he was so soon to be called away, but it was a glorious entry into realms of bliss.

Mr. Breckon was born in Bridlington Quay, Yorkshire, England, Feb. 23, 1823, and with the family emigrated to this country in 1844, settling in the vicinity of Sinclair, which was his home for many years. At the age of 18 he was left the sole support of a widow mother and bravely he discharged his duties to his parent, though his entire means consisted of 50 cents and a horse, while he received as wages for his first month's work the munificent sum of eight dollars. By industry, economy and frugality he acquired ample means for the support of his declining years and for the rearing and educating of his children, who arise and call him blessed. He was a farmer during the active years of his life and called that his occupation, but so great was his love for the blessed Master, whom he served that he called telling the story of redeeming love his business. He was early made a licensed preacher of the M. E. church and for many decades he rejoiced in delivering the blessed message without money and without price. He enjoyed the fellowship of such heroes as Peter Cartwright, Peter Akers, G. R. S. McElfresh, Wm. McK. McElfresh, J. P. Dimmitt, Preston Wood, John Sargent, James Leaton, W. F. Short, Bishop Bowman and many others. He was always humble in his demeanor, though ready to give and take a joke with zest when it left no sting. The last time he was seen by the writer was about a week ago after three in the afternoon, when the old gentleman was leaving the Hockenhull-Elliott Banking and Trust company's office by the back door.

“Father Breckon; what does the good book say about the man who enters not by the door into the sheep fold, but climbeth up some other way?” was good naturedly asked.

“I guess he's called a thief and a robber,” was the smiling rejoinder and both indulged in a good laugh, though he was assured that the questioner didn't by any means intend to include him in the category of bad men.

More than one person has been led to a better life by Mr. Breckon and only in the great book of remembrance is the record of his good deeds kept. A prominent man of this city remarked yesterday afternoon that one day the old gentleman came to him and said he was anxious regarding his soul's welfare and was praying for him and the seed thus sown produced fruit a hundred fold. None knew him but to love him and none but good words were ever heard regarding him.

A favorite stanza with him was:

“Not a cloud doth arise
To darken my skies
Or hide for a moment
My Lord from my eyes.”

In April, 1889, he decided to give up active business and come to Jacksonville to reside, which he did, though the greater part of the time since he has acceptably ministered to the congregations at Hebron and Ashbury, where he will long be held in loving remembrance.

Jan. 17, 1855, he was married to Mrs. Elizabeth Stimpson and was the father of three children, Sarah M., afterward the wife of Charles Hopper, and now deceased, James W. and Joseph V., both of this city. His wife died July 15, 1889, and Oct. 17, 1900, he was married the second time to Mrs. Isabel Gilliland, who survives him. He also leaves a brother, John W., of Central City, Neb., and three sisters, Mrs. Catharine Swain, of this city, Mrs. Annie E. Stalker, of Carthage, Mo., and Mrs. Harriet Wilson, of Central City, Neb. He was all that a father could be to a stepson, John W. Stimpson, who loved him dearly. When the boy was small and the way to school hard for little feet many times he was carried to the door of the school house by his fond stepfather, whom he remembers with feelings of tender love. He is now a resident of Kansas, but will probably be here to attend the funeral.

The funeral services will probably be conducted Monday at an hour to be named later.

According to a wish expressed by Mr. Breckon the family request that no flowers be sent.

GRIDIRON HOP.

The annual gridiron hop was held by the students of Illinois college at the gymnasium Friday evening and was a great success. The attendance was large and a number of the Millikin university foot ball team remained for the dance and returned to Decatur on the 1:30 a. m. train.

Jeffries' orchestra furnished excellent music and a program of twenty dances and several extras was enjoyed.

Mr. and Mrs. James G. Capps and Dr. and Mrs. J. G. Ames were the chaperones.

STEPPED AGAINST A HOT STOVE.

A child of Mrs. George T. Benson, when getting his usual Saturday night bath, stepped back against a hot stove which burned him severely. The child was in great agony and his mother could do nothing to pacify him. Remembering that she had a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm in the house, she thought she would try it. In less than half an hour after applying it the child was quiet and asleep, and in less than two weeks was well. Mrs. Benson is a well known resident of Keller, Va. Pain Balm is an antiseptic liniment and especially valuable for burns, cuts, bruises and sprains. For sale by all druggists.

MINISTER'S NOVEL WAGER.

Stakes Include: Communion Service and Suit of Clothing.

After the prayer meeting services at Shiloh Baptist church, near Reading, Pa., the other night Rev. Moses E. Braxton, the pastor, made a novel proposition to the members of the congregation, which was received with favor.

The minister proposes to collect the sum of $50 before his entire congregation will collect $50, and if he loses he will buy a handsome communion service for use in the church. If he wins, the congregation is to buy him a new black suit, the cost not to exceed $25.

The congregation is desirous of purchasing a church lot and is trying hard to raise the necessary money.

EXPLOSION EXPOSES SCHOOL FOR CRIME

Philadelphia, Nov. 13.—Accident has revealed a school for safe breakers, and has led to the arrest of six students, one of whom gave his name as John Moore and his address as St. Louis.

While manufacturing or testing nitroglycerine in a third-story back room at 375 Wood street, the students nearly met death in an explosion that wrecked the room, loosened the roof and blew a hole in the floor. Four of the men remained to attempt explanations and preserve the secret. They tried to keep the officers out by saying the noise had been due to a lamp exploding. Two of the students fled, but returned at daybreak.

John Patten, one of the prisoners, who said he was 31 years old and lived at Mary's, Pa., presented remarkable evidence of his narrow escape. Each of his trouser legs was split into ribbons. Even his underwear was split along both legs, and yet his skin was scarcely singed.

The other men said they were William Marshall, 21, Batavia street, New York; John Moore, Joseph Anderson, of Scranton; William Jones, no home, and Fred Davis, a one-legged man, of Boston. All declined to give any information regarding the explosion or the man and woman believed to be their leaders.

In their pockets and in their room were found two loaded revolvers, filled cartridges and belts, two skeleton keys, each one foot long, dynamite fuses, dynamite caps, a finely-tempered steel punch and drill such as is used in opening safes and a new silver watch and $30.

The police found in Patton's possession four pocket maps of this and adjacent states, with a list of post-offices in this vicinity, some of which have recently been robbed. The post-offices at Spring City and Port Kennedy, Pa., which were visited by burglars last Saturday night, were marked and on a map of Maryland Pocomoke City was checked off. A safe robbery occurred there recently.

IS MAJOR NOW

Frank P. Wells, of Decatur, was elected colonel of the Fifth regiment, I. N. G., at an election held in Springfield Thursday.

The vacancy in the regiment was caused by the promotion of Col. James S. Culver to the command of the Second brigade, with the rank of general. John C. Cabanis, former major of the first battalion, was elected to the lieutenant colonelcy made vacant by the advancement of Lieutenant Colonel Wells.

Capt. E. C. Vickery, of Co. I, of this city, was elected to fill the vacancy as major caused by the election of Major Cabanis and Capt. J. F. Cassel, of Co. H, was elected major of the Second battalion, vice Maj. Fred B. Nichols, of Quincy, resigned.

The elections were practically unanimous with the exception of Captain Cassel, who was opposed by Capt. Henry L. Whipple, inspector of rifle practice of the regiment. The vote stood: Cassel, 18; Whipple, 10. The result of the elections is regarded with the greatest satisfaction by all the officers of the regiment and the utmost good feeling and comradeship prevails.

Gen. James S. Culver presided at the election and Col. Theodore S. Ewert, assistant adjutant general, acted as clerk. Capt. Frank R. Simmons, of Co. C, of Springfield, and Capt. E. C. Chace, of Co. E, of Hillsboro, acted as tellers.

After the election a banquet was served in the Leland hotel ordinary, given to the officers of the regiment by General Culver. There were about thirty officers present and all the newly elected officers made happy responses to the demands for speeches from their comrades.

Colonel Wells, the new commander of the regiment, began his military career as a private in Co. H at Decatur. He gradually rose from the ranks and has been lieutenant colonel fourteen years. He is considered one of the best tacticians in the state national guard and during the tour of the regiment in the south at the time of the Spanish war was in command of the regiment when Colonel Culver was acting brigade commander.

Lieutenant Colonel Cabanis now resides in Sandoval. He began his military career as a private in Co. E at Petersburg. In 1894 he was placed in charge of the old state arsenal and held that position during the administration of Governor Altgeld. During the Spanish-American war Colonel Cabanis endeavored himself to the members of the regiment by his unceasing solicitude for their comfort and welfare. He is the oldest acting officer in the Illinois National guard.

The honor conferred upon Major Vickery is indeed a deserved one. He has risen to the position he now occupies step by step and his promotion is due to merit alone. He has ever been popular with the men of his company and during his long connection with the national guard his interest has never waned and he has ever labored in its behalf and in behalf of the Fifth infantry, of which his command has always been conspicuous, with earnestness and zeal. His promotion to a field officer comes as a worthy recognition of his efficiency in the past and of his present popularity with officers of his regiment. He has always been known as a splendid tactician. His friends in this city heartily congratulate him on the honor that has come to him.

Maj. J. F. Cassel, of Decatur, has a splendid record where he formerly commanded Co. H and his promotion meets with equal favor. He has risen step by step and has been many years of service in the I. N. G.

ANOTHER VICTORY

Illinois College Eleven Won Game From Milliken University—Score 18 to 0.

Illinois college defeated Milliken university in foot ball. Friday at the West Side park by a score of 18 to 0. Considering the weather a good crowd witnessed the contest. The game went off smoothly and very little time was taken out. Both sides played hard and were frequently penalized.

Near the first of the season Illinois defeated Milliken by a score of 20 to 0. In the contest the visitors showed a vast improvement and played fast and hard. Masterson, Spreague, Moore and McDavid were their best ground gainers. For Illinois McDonald took Owen's place at right half and fully sustained his reputation as a foot ball player. Eilers played a star game. Brockhouse, Harmon and Brown, Illinois' back field, showed up in their usual good form. Vieira, though in poor condition from last Saturday's game, did some fine defensive work. This was the last game Illinois will probably play on the home grounds. R. Harmon, who has coached the team, deserves great credit for the splendid eleven Illinois has put in the field this year. Though a member of the team and a junior in the college, carrying the regular amount of work, he has found time to give the team his careful attention. As a result the college has had the best team in years. The second team, composed mostly of freshmen, will go to Greenfield this morning to play the high school of that city.

FIRST HALF.

The game—Milliken won the toss and chose the west goal. Illinois kicked off and Milliken advanced the ball to the 15-yard line. By a few more plays the visitors carried the ball to the 30-yard line, where they fumbled and McDonald fell upon the ball on the 35-yard mark. Illinois took the ball and by a number of gains by McDonald, Brockhouse and Eilers advanced the ball to within one foot of the goal. On the next play McDonald was pushed over for a touchdown. Brown kicked goal; score 6 to 0.

Milliken kicked to Illinois' 5-yard line and McDonald advanced it 15 yards. Milliken was penalized for off side. McDonald, Harmon and Eilers carried the ball to the 40-yard mark, where Illinois fumbled, but Wm. Harmon regained it by a loss of 6 yards. Illinois forced to kick. Milliken fumbled it and McDonald fell upon the ball on the 50-yard mark. Tontz and Wm. Harmon made 10 yards. Brown made a quarter back kick and R. Harmon obtaining the ball, the Illinois players by a circling formation advanced through the 20-yard line. From there Brockhouse, Eilers and Harmon carried the ball to the 5-yard line, where they fumbled. Milliken worked the ball to the 15-yard mark and Illinois held for downs. Illinois advanced the ball to the 5-yard line and Eilers went over for a touchdown. Brown kicked goal; score 12 to 0.

Milliken kicked off and after a few plays time was called on Milliken's 15-yard line in their possession.

SECOND HALF.

Milliken kicked off to Illinois' 40-yard line and Conover advanced to the 45-yard mark. Eilers made 15 yards, McDonald 5 yards and Illinois was penalized 20 yards and Illinois but made their distance. The locals by steady gains carried the ball to one foot of the goal and a straight buck by R. Harmon made the required distance. Brown kicked goal; score 18 to 0.

Illinois kicked to Moore, who advanced it 35 yards. Milliken, by fast and furious play carried the ball to Illinois 15-yard mark, where they attempted a drop kick, but failed. Brown punted out from the 25-yard line to Milliken's 30-yard line and Keaton was tackled in his tracks by Wm. Harmon.

From here Milliken by splendid foot ball gained steadily through Illinois' line to Illinois 2-yard line, where time was called. Masterson, Spreague and Moore negotiated most of Milliken's gains. The line-up:
